France

Mission : Concept design and construction supervision

Historical Monument of the 19th century
Year of construction: 1825 - 1827

They were called “vessels of light”. Of the forty or so covered passages built around 1820 in the capital, only twenty or so remain today. That’s why, in order to preserve the Parisian heritage, one of the longest passages of Paris called upon us to give it a new look.

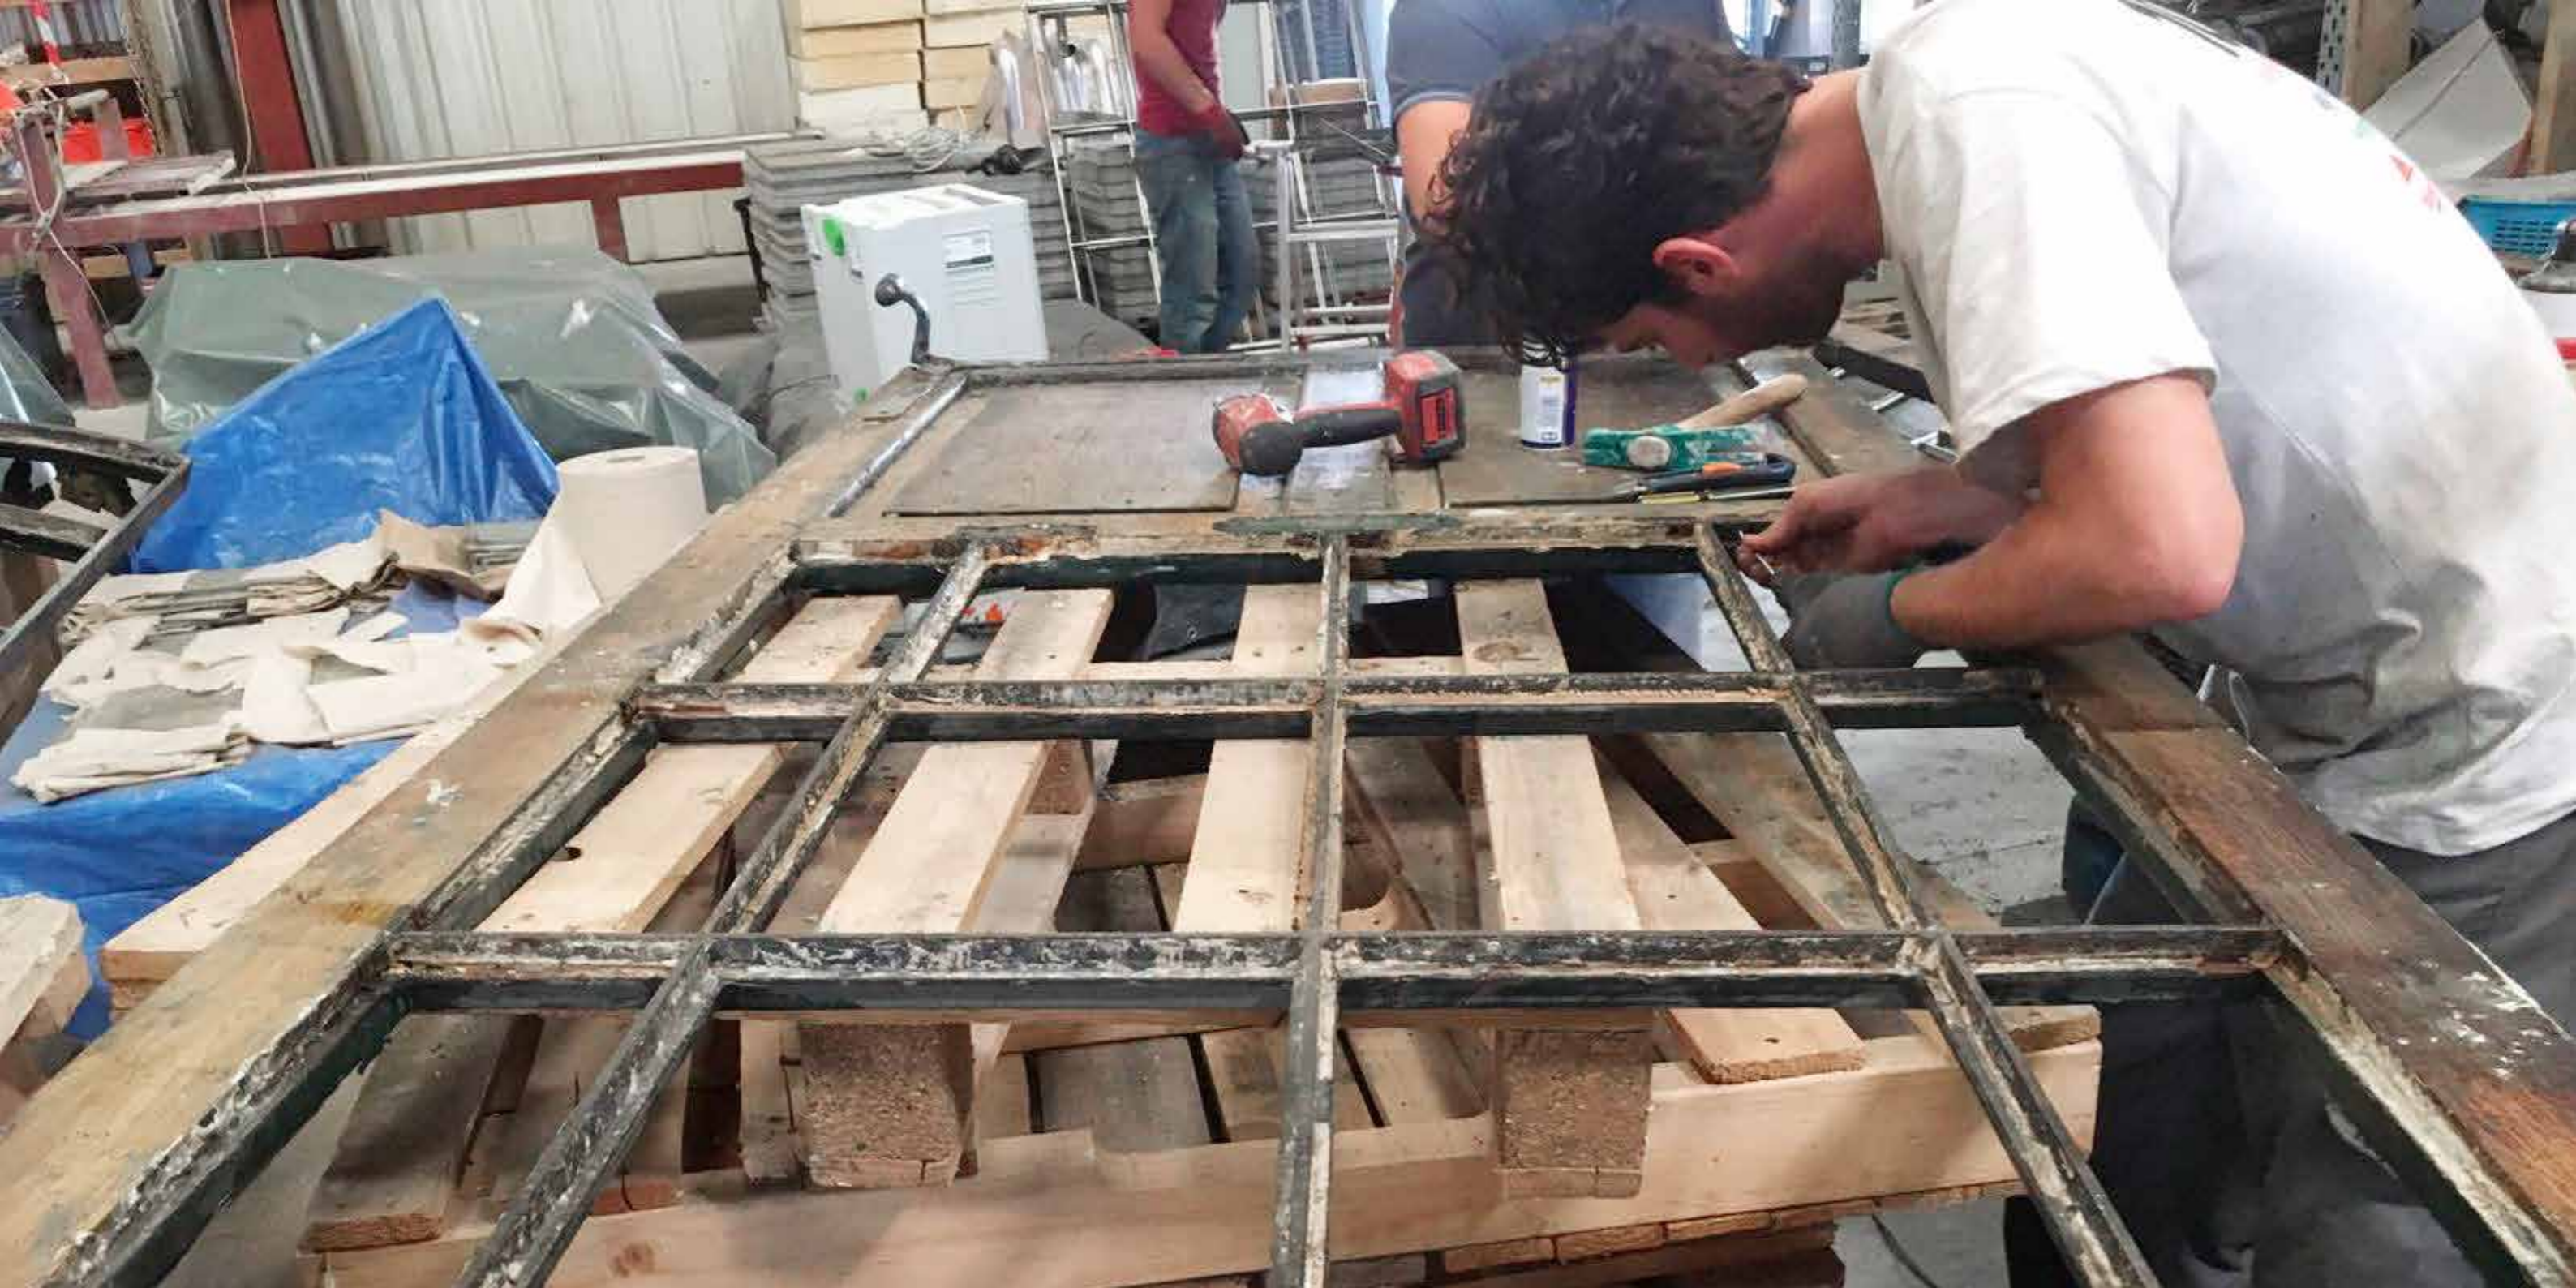

Complete restoration of the glass roof and the entrances, renovation of the interior facades, repair of the floors, nothing is left out to give back to the passage Choiseul its former glory.

restoration and heritage

The Théâtre des Bouffes Parisiens is a 600-seat Italian-style theatre opened in 1855 and located in the heart of Paris. From Jacques Offenbach to Jean-Claude Brialy, the Bouffes Parisiens have always hosted shows that have been appreciated by all.

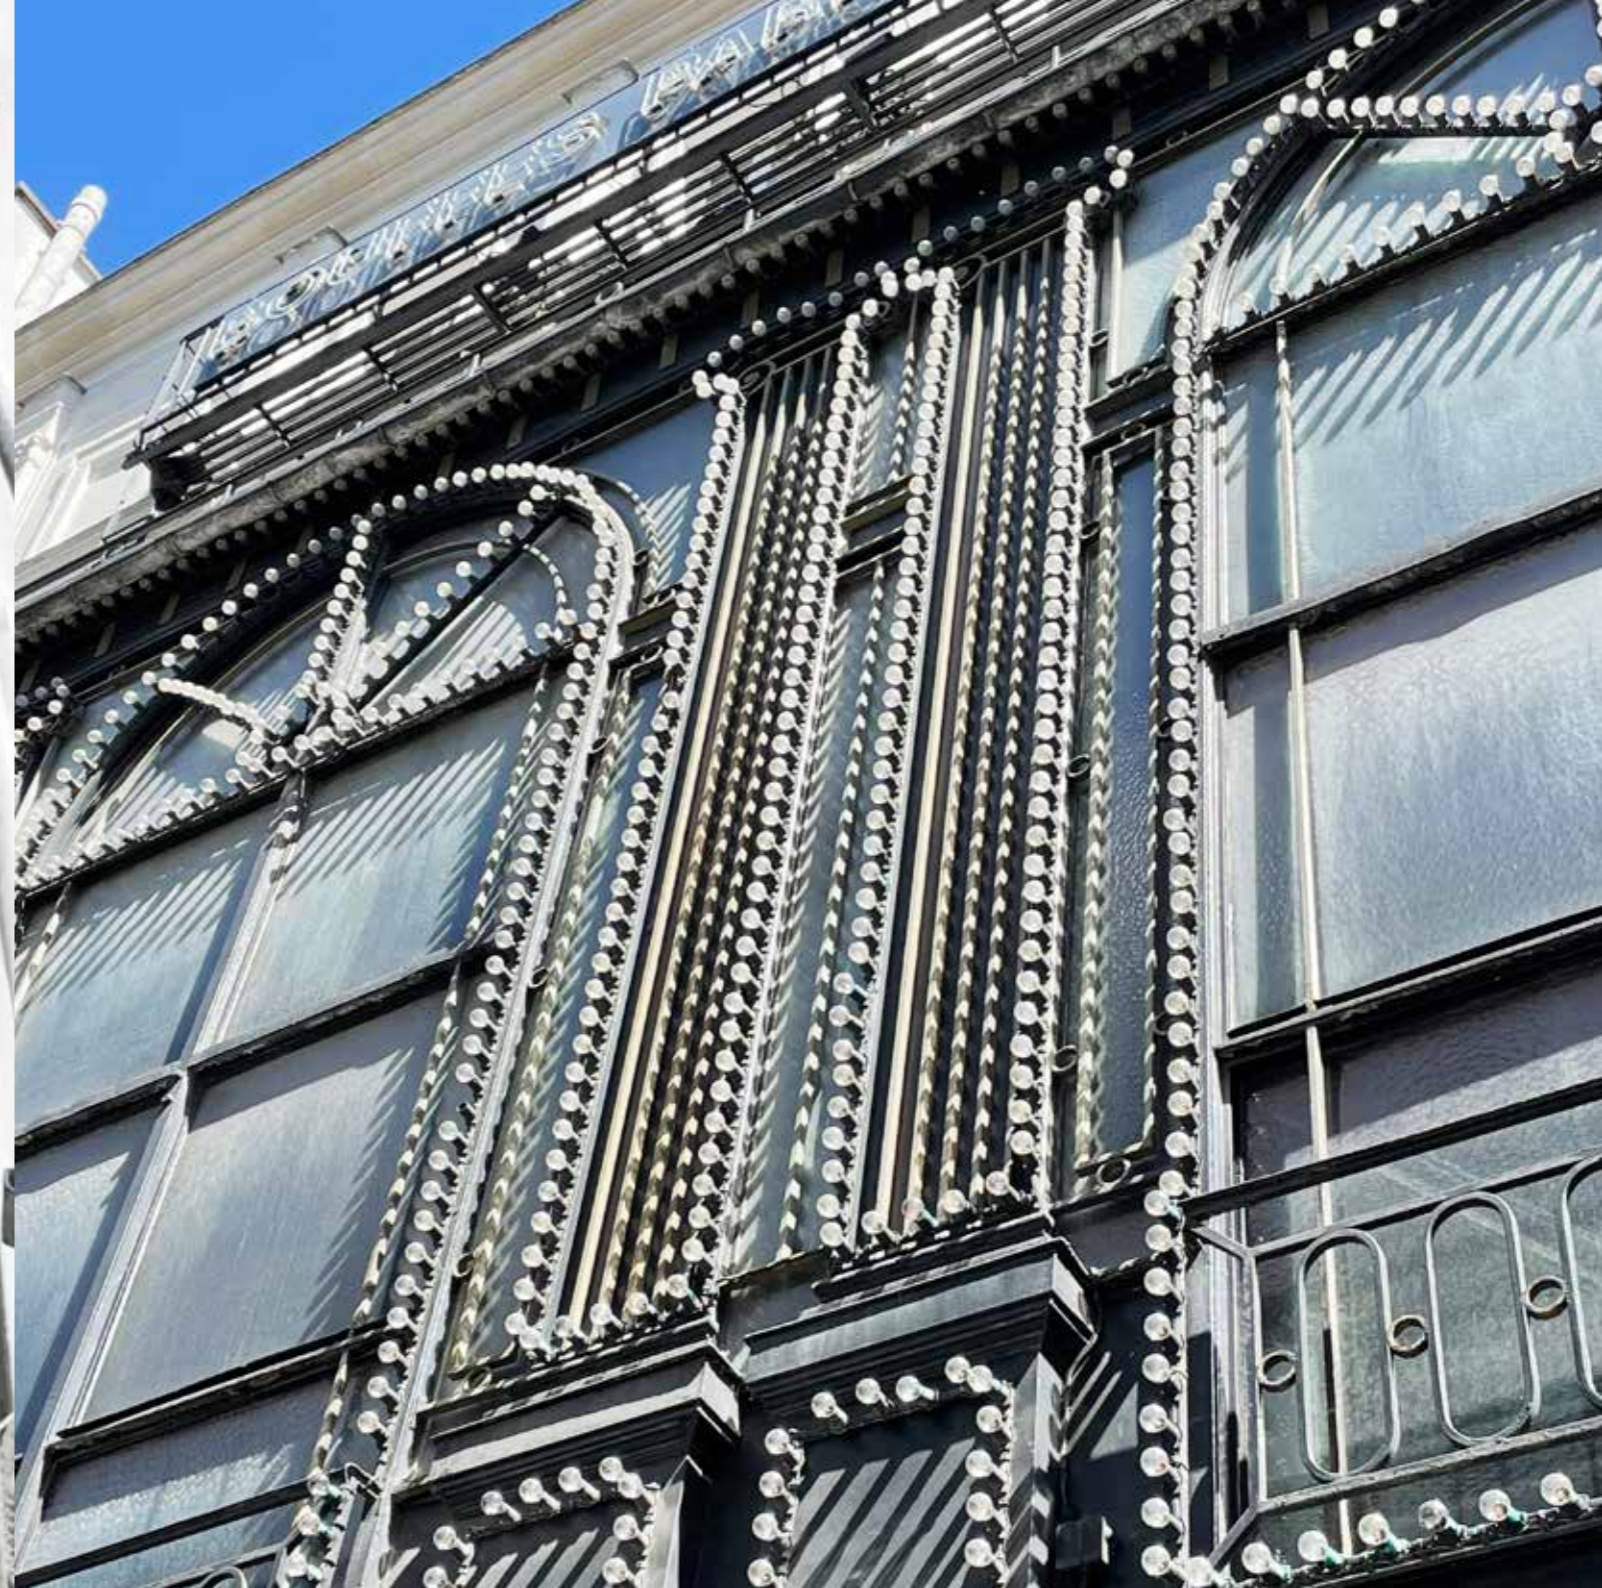

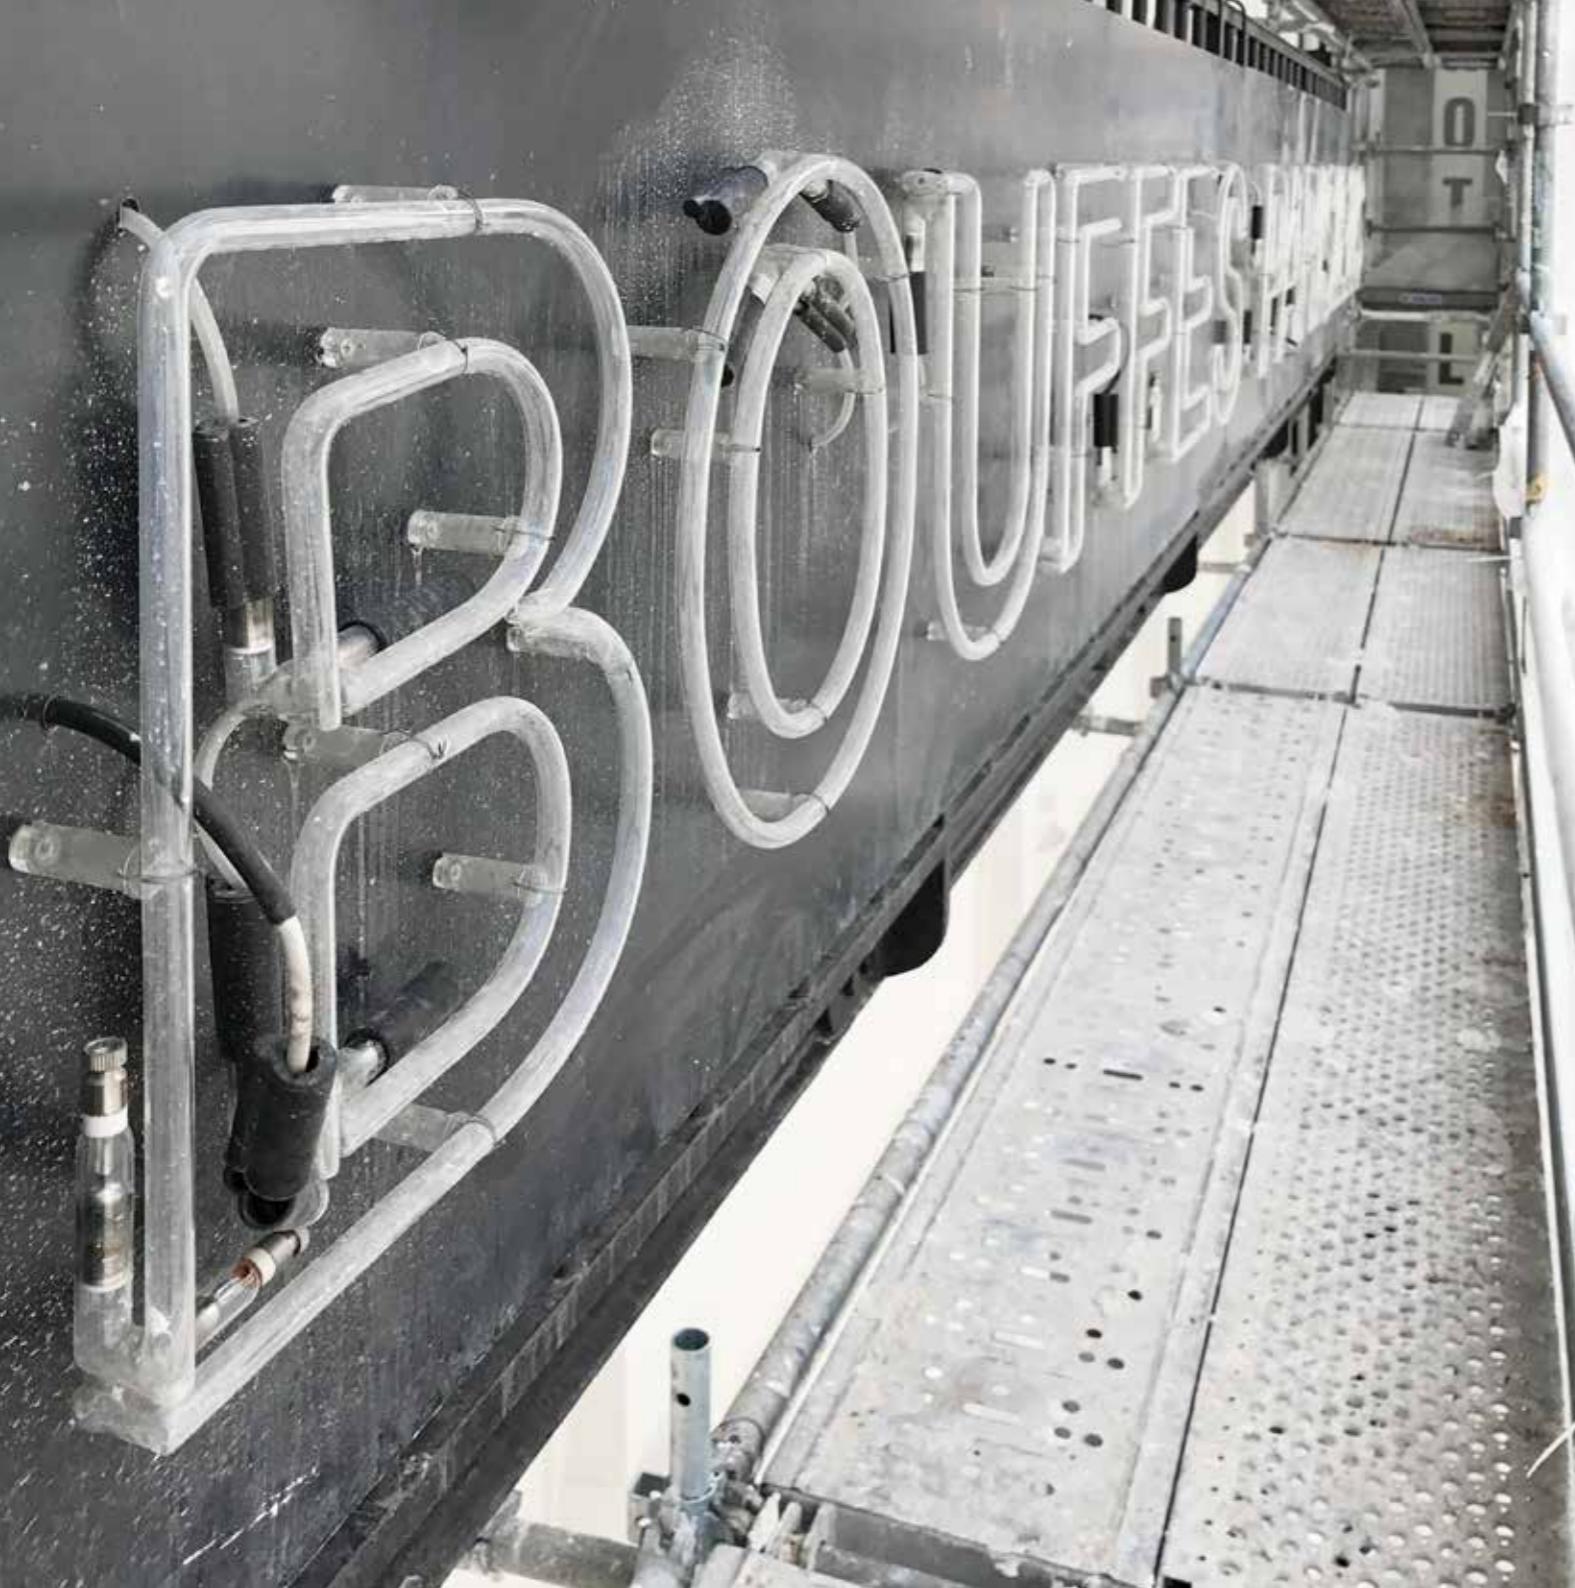

After analysing the site and revising the building's security system, we restored the theatre's historic facade, which once again lights up the rue Monsigny.
